The Board must, for each year, serve on the owner of each coal mine a notice specifying the amount that the owner is required to pay under this section.

Such a notice is taken to have been served on the owner of a coal mine:

PART 5—NEW SOUTH WALES MINES RESCUE BRIGADE

Establishment of Mines Rescue Brigade

37. There is established by this Act the New South Wales Mines Rescue Brigade.

Functions of the Brigade

38. The function of the Brigade is to provide, under the control and direction of the Board, a mine rescue service for responding to, and dealing with, emergencies arising at underground coal mines in New South Wales and at other mines.

Composition of Brigade

39. (1) The Brigade comprises all persons for the time being appointed as members of the Brigade under section 42.

   (2) A member of the Brigade is, when acting as such a member, to be regarded as being employed by the Board.

   (3) While engaged in mine rescue work or undergoing training for mine rescue purposes, a member of the Brigade is entitled to be paid such fees and allowances as the Board, with the concurrence of the Minister, may determine in respect of the member.
Determination of the Board with respect to mine rescue personnel, equipment and storage facilities

40. (1) The Board must, for each underground coal mine in New South Wales, determine:

(a) the number of persons employed at the mine whose services the owner of the mine must make available to the Board for mine rescue purposes; and

(b) the number of items, and the kinds, of breathing apparatus and other rescue equipment that the owner must provide at the mine for use by those persons; and

(c) the amount of area, and the kinds of facilities, that the owner must make available at the mine for the storage of that equipment when not in use, for training members of the Brigade and for use by those members during emergencies at the mine.

(2) The Board may, from time to time, vary a determination made under this section.

(3) The Board must serve a determination or variation of a determination made under this section on the owner of the underground coal mine concerned.

(4) The owner of an underground coal mine on whom a determination or variation is served must comply with the determination, or the determination as varied, within 28 days after service or within such further period as the Board allows.

(5) If a determination or variation requires the owner of an underground coal mine to make available the services of a specified number of persons employed at the mine, the owner must, within 14 days after the service of the determination or variation, provide the Board with a list that includes the names, addresses and any other particulars required by the Board of the persons selected for that purpose.

(6) If the Board is not satisfied that the owner of an underground coal mine is complying with a determination, or a determination as varied, the Board may serve on the owner a further notice specifying what the owner has to do to comply with the Board’s requirements.

(7) The owner of a mine on whom such a further notice is served must, within 28 days after service (or within such further period as the Board allows), comply with the notice.

(8) The obligation imposed on the owner of an underground coal mine by subsection (4) or (7) is modified to the extent that the Board has refused to appoint as a member of the Brigade a person whose name is included in a list provided by the owner under subsection (5) or has terminated the appointment of a member previously appointed from a list so provided. That obligation is also subject to the willingness of the persons whose names are included in such a list to be appointed as members of the Brigade.

(9) The owner of a mine who employs a member of the Brigade must allow that member to attend official training for members of the Brigade and emergencies to which the member is called to attend as such a member.

(10) An owner of a mine who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with subsection (4), (7) or (9) is guilty of an offence.

Maximum penalty: 100 penalty units.

(11) For the purposes of this section, a determination is taken to be varied if it is revoked and replaced by another determination.

Right of appeal against determination of the Board

41. (1) The owner of an underground coal mine on whom a determination, or a variation of a determination, made under section 40 is served may, if dissatisfied with the determination or variation, lodge with the Minister an appeal against the determination or variation. An appeal must be in writing and may only be made at any time before the determination or variation is to be complied with.

(2) The Minister is required to consider and determine an appeal as soon as practicable after it is lodged under this section.

(3) The Minister may determine an appeal:
(a) by confirming the determination or variation appealed against; or
(b) by modifying the determination or variation; or
(c) by substituting for the determination or variation any determination or variation that the Board could have been made.

A determination or variation modified or substituted under this subsection is taken to be a determination or variation made by the Board.

(4) A determination or variation that is the subject of an appeal does not take effect until the appeal is either withdrawn or is finally determined and the result is notified to the owner of the underground coal mine concerned.
Appointment and termination of appointment of members of the Brigade

42. (1) On being provided with a list in accordance with section 40 (5), the Board must either appoint or refuse to appoint as members of the Brigade the persons whose names are included in the list.

(2) The Board may also appoint any other person as a member of the Brigade.

(3) A person is not to be appointed as a member of the Brigade without his or her consent.

(4) The Board may also terminate the appointment of a member of the Brigade.

(5) If the Board refuses to appoint, or terminates the appointment of, a person referred to in subsection (1) as a member of the Brigade, it must, by notice in writing, inform the person and the owner of the underground coal mine concerned of the Board’s decision and the reason why the person was not appointed or the person’s appointment was terminated.

(6) Within 14 days after being so informed, the owner of the underground coal mine concerned must provide the Board with a further list specifying the name, address and any other particulars required by the Board of another person employed by the owner to replace the person whose appointment was declined or terminated. This subsection applies as often as may be necessary to ensure that the owner makes available to the Board the services of the number of persons specified in the determination, or variation, served on the owner.

(7) If the owner of the underground coal mine concerned does not comply with subsection (6) within the period of 14 days referred to in that subsection, the owner is taken not to have complied with the determination of the Board served on the owner under section 40, or the determination as varied.

(8) The Board and the owner of the underground coal mine concerned are taken to have entered into an arbitration agreement to have arbitrated under the Commercial Arbitration Act 1984 any dispute between the Board and the owner arising from a decision of the Board refusing to appoint, or terminating the appointment of, a member of the Brigade. If any such dispute arises, that Act applies accordingly.
Board to be responsible for training

43. The Board is responsible for ensuring that members of the Brigade are adequately trained in:

(a) the use of breathing apparatus and other mine safety equipment; and
(b) mine safety procedures; and
(c) the work involved in rescuing persons who may become trapped in a mine or who may otherwise need to be rescued from dangerous situations occurring at or in a mine; and
(d) the procedures involved in sealing an underground coal mine and in reopening such a mine that has been sealed; and
(e) such other matters as the Board considers necessary.

Certain events occurring at a mine rescue station to be notified to the Chief Inspector of Coal Mines etc.

44. (1) If a reportable event occurs at a mine rescue station, the person in charge of the station must:

(a) immediately give oral notice of the event to the Chief Inspector of Coal Mines and to the Board; and
(b) within the following 24 hours send a written notice to them setting out:

• the nature of the event; and
• the number and names of any persons killed or injured as a consequence of the event.

(2) The person in charge of a mine rescue station:

(a) must keep a record of all reportable events occurring at the station; and
(b) must make the record available for inspection by the Board, or by any person designated by the Board, whenever the Board or person requests production of the record.

(3) An event is a reportable event at a mine rescue station:

(a) if it is an accident which causes the death of a member of the Brigade or a serious bodily injury (within the meaning of section 85 of the Coal Mines Regulation Act 1982) to such a member, being an accident occurring while the member is acting as such a member and is working at or from the station; or
(b) if it involves the breakdown of mine rescue equipment (such as breathing apparatus) that is in use at the station or is otherwise used by the Brigade at the station.
Certificates and medals

45. (1) When the Board is satisfied that a member of the Brigade has successfully completed a course of training in mine rescue work approved by the Board and is competent to take part in mine rescue work, the member is entitled to receive from the Board a certificate to that effect.

(2) The Board must keep a register of certificates issued under this section.
